Von Bennigsen declared that the late election surpassed others for the rancor displayed by the government, and the press which they inspired must be held to have incurred a greater responsibility for the proceedings than the individuals. He protested against Von Puttkammer's present at the individuals. He protested against Von Puttkammer's into an electoral contest. Von Puttkammer's into an electoral contest. Von Puttkammer's the Government had been accused of following an interested policy of the lowest and meanest description.

The debate lasted until past midnight and ended in the adoption of a resolution to refer the matter to the Election Committee.

His feeling allusions to the late President Garfield produced hearty applause.

Ex-Governor E. F. Noyes replied, paying compliments to the bravery of the Confederate troops, and saying that among the first to fraternize after the war were the men who had fought the hardest, while the last were those who were invincible in peace, but invisible in war.

Miss Rachel Cummings, of Atlanta, then in a graceful speech delivered a number of handkerchiefs, made at the Exposition, as souvenirs of the occasion.

The Mutual Union Telegraph people say the suit pending by certain stockholders against the company will not prevent the assessments being made or paid and the securities delivered according to agreement. The good effect that was expected from the Western Union's splendid financial statement appears to be counterbalanced by rumors of consolidating the interests of opposing lines, and denial of the renor opposing lines, and denial of the repor that friendly negotiations are pending be tween it and the Baltimore and Ohio Tele

It is generally supposed that Mr. Gould is immediately interested in maintaining the Wabsahes, and their additional sag today is viewed with even more interest and concern than the disappointing course of Western Union. There are those who are vigorous enough to say Gould has lost his grip on the street, while others aver it is a mere part of his programme preparatory to a bull movement all along the line. One opinion is about as good as another in the present state of the market.

Washington, December 15.-The cond WASHINGTON, December 15.—The condition of the cotton crop, as reported to the Department of Agriculture, is lower than in any season since 1800. The December returns, as compared with last year, are as follows: North Carolina 71, South Carolina 72, Georgia 80, Florida 92, Alabama 83, Mississippi 73, Louisiana 83, Texas 66, Arkansas 50, Teniressee 53. Taking the reports of the season together, up to December 1st, the indications point to a crop of about 4,900,000 bales, and a somewhat higher product appears possible.
